Spring is here and many Homeowners are considering Home Improvements. But did you know that any exterior projects such as decks, porches, pergolas, room additions and even playsets must have an approved Application For Exterior Improvements by the Architectural Review Committee (ARC)?

Architectural Review Committee

The Application can be found on our website. www.theshoreshoa.org
The Architectural Review Committee was established to promote standards for the construction and remodeling of residences and defining community rules concerning property use.
Our Deed Restrictions guide homeowners in maintaining the aesthetic appeal of our community. We ask for your assistance and cooperation in following these guidelines to help keep The Shores a wonderful place to live.

Please contact the ARC before you make any modification to to the exterior of your home or property.
The Deed Restrictions can be found on our website at www.theshoreshoa.org

And The Winner Is...

Member At Large Resigns/ Board Position Open

The board of Trustees has received and accepted a letter of resignation from resident Ed Jones who has been faithfully serving his term upon the Board, holding the current office of Member at Large.

Citing personal and time constraints in his letter, Ed has been a valuable asset in advancing the interest of the HOA and has been instrumental in developing our collections guidelines and considerations. Ed continues to serve the community with his work on the Directory and Membership Committee and helps oversee the data backup and maintenance of our Association computers.

The community wishes to extend to Ed and his family our gratitude for the valuable time he was able to provide.!

Interested? You can email or write the board to be considered for appointment by

May 15, 2013.

Man's Best Friend

Since the weather has turned for the better, the board has seen an increase in the complaints about dogs and their waste.

Dog owners are reminded that they are responsible for cleaning up after their dog. No one wants to step into left behind dog waste. Not only can waste transmit illness to humans and other animals, it is poor reflection on the owners of other dogs and on our neighborhood. It is a good idea to clean up waste by re-using plastic bags from the grocery store. By doing this the neighborhood stays clean and helps the environment by recycling. It only takes a minute to be a good caretaker and the whole neighborhood will thank you. Thank you!
